Our Voices Matter: Spoken Word & Poetry
Instructor: Talisha Jackson
Class Schedule: Mondays/Wednesdays 3:00-5:00 pm
Class Description: Spoken word and Poetry is the music of language in which it is simultaneously pure and abstract, both direct and ambiguous. Just like music, poetry needs an open mind, an open ear and, perhaps most importantly, no fear. Through creation of a safe space for poetry recitation, confidence and trust develop. Spoken word poetry is a unique hybrid, with written words memorized like lines in a play and said aloud with a performer’s flair. While studying and writing any poetry helps students develop literacy skills, spoken word also helps students build social and emotional skill sets including self-awareness, communication and self-confidence.

Outdoor Survival
Instructor: Alexander Aman
Class Schedule: Tuesdays/Thursdays 3:00-4:00 pm
Class Description: We left the house, with our backpack to start a normal school day. As we stepped outside the front door, it locked behind us. Oh No! We realized we forgot our cell phone, money, and keys inside. The school bus never showed up, and our parents are already gone for work. Worst of all, our neighbors won’t answer the door because of Covid. It’s on us to find food, water & shelter. Together we will learn some basic survival skills in both urban and rural settings with Mr. A.
