Dear Families,

It’s difficult to believe, but November is here! We are looking forward to conferences in two weeks, so please return the conference time request form that was in your child’s folder last week.

Last week’s acquisition and practice of anti-bullying strategies was well done. Ask your child about the bulletin board they created and to show how to Stand Up against bullying. It’s such a treat (and no tricks) to be able to care for others.

Literacy continues to click along with a continuing study of Trees, and retelling a non-fiction text in sequence.

Math Unit 3 begins on Wednesday. Please remember your child might be seeing a different teacher depending on the pre-test results. Unit 3 will focus on extension of numeration and place value, money, time, and data collection and analysis. Recognizing and using numerals in proper place value (ones, tens, hundreds) is one of the most important math skills for children. Any activities you can do at home to reinforce place value will pay off particularly when we get to “borrowing” and “carrying.” One website that has some place value practice is Sheppard Software: https://www.sheppardsoftware.com/mathgames/menus/place_value.htm

We are in need of donations for our Field Trip and Planner fund! We ask for $25 from each family in order to facilitate field trips to the Ordway Theater, the Como Zoo, the Bell Museum and the Physics Force, as well as to pay for the planners. We are significantly short this year and are asking families to please donate whatever they can. An online donation is preferred for security reasons, but if you would rather send a check or cash that would be very much appreciated. Thank you!!! Team Two
