Scimone's Lab Report: STEM as a Family

Hello Parents!

We're Science from Scientists, a nonprofit organization that brings real scientists and engineers into elementary and middle schools to teach engaging hands-on STEM lessons (Science, Technology, Engineering, Math).

After every classroom visit this year, we'll send you Scimone's Lab Report, which includes:

- A summary of the activity your child completed that week
- At-home lesson extension activities (more fun for the whole family!)
- Discounts on our vacation programs, and more!

Email content available in English & Spanish.
