Soy Allergies

Thank you for notifying us that your child has a soy allergy.

Please be sure to tell us about your child’s reaction to soy so our staff know how to help and respond in an emergency.

About School Meals

Students grab breakfast from our carts as they are on their way to the classroom, and enjoy those foods at their desk. It’s important for parents to review the menu with their child. Our staff can help students select from foods offered for each morning. Students use a PIN number at lunch and staff will monitor students trays to make sure they don’t take a food item that may cause a reaction.

What happens next?

Soy is found in many foods. Having a soy allergy means it’s important to watch what you’re eating and read food labels carefully. If you tell us your child has a soy allergy, we’ll follow these precautions:

- The school nurse, teacher, and cafeteria staff will be notified of the soy allergy.
- Your student will be able to ask for help when selecting breakfast each morning.
- Your student’s account and PIN number will be used to notify our staff to check the tray at lunch.
- Our staff will help your child avoid ALL foods that contains soy.
- If there is any suspicion your child experiences a reaction to a food, we will seek help immediately.

What if my child needs other accommodations?

We understand reactions can range from mild to severe. Most people who are allergic to soy react to the proteins in soy, and some people with soy allergies are able to eat foods containing soybean oil. Please let us know what foods your doctor has asked your child to avoid so we can offer as many foods as possible.
Avoiding All Soy and Soy Products means your child will not be served:

Any food item that has a Soybean icon on the interactive menu

If your child has a soy allergy and cannot have soybean oil, your child will be not be offered:

If your child has a soy allergy but can have soybean oil, your child will be offered: