

Mission

The Frogtown-Summit-University Early Learning Coalition (ELC) connects families in our local communities with resources.

Who are we:

- We are an action-oriented group comprised of community members representing (but not limited to) parents, non-profit organizations, businesses, and schools.
- We desire to connect families to local resources and help adults advocate on behalf of children.
- We believe that empowering families to build upon their strengths will sustain our vibrant community and help it thrive.
- Our work is focused on Family Wellness.

Our goals are to:

- increase awareness of available resources and services available for children and families.
- identify the lived experiences and trends in mental health and family wellness for residents in the Frogtown-Summit-University neighborhood.
- share and use the expertise of residents and organizations to have an impact on the family wellness experiences in the community.
- help to strengthen the relationships of community partners sharing similar work and interests.

We recognize:

- Children are nurtured best within the context of their family and community.
- NO ONE advocates for children as well as their family and surrounding community.
- Joint efforts towards family wellbeing are more effective and longer lasting when community members share their time and talents.

Your commitment would include:

- Participating in conversations about young children and their families with other partners. Sharing responsibility for meeting preparations, goals, and facilitations.
- Advancing the goals and initiatives of the coalition, including housing and family wellness matters.
- Sharing responsibility for the planning, action, and evaluation of the ELC goals.
- Ongoing recruitment and engagement of additional partners for the benefit of children and families.
- Participation and tabling at community events.

The benefits include:

- Shared understanding and vision for children and families in the Frogtown-Summit-University neighborhood.
- Organization and resident collaboration on community initiatives, giving a cohesive and shared approach to result in greater impact for children and families.
- Partnerships with residents, organizations, and schools to support child and family wellbeing.
