General Course Description:

Mythology is an elective class designed to challenge students and give them a deeper meaning for ancient classic myths and the cultures from which they originated. The class will analyze fictitious myths from many world cultures, including: Greek/Roman, Egyptian, British, Norse, Native American, as well as other World Mythology as time allows. Students will focus on the gods, goddesses, demigods, heroes, and creatures from these myths and how their lives and stories explained the unexplainable of their time and the life lessons and rules these ancient people followed. Students will also see how the myths affect our lives in our current culture and will write and create projects for further understanding.

*Please be aware that at times, there are references to religions in mythology. While at no time is any religion encouraged or discouraged, some families may want to consider whether or not they are comfortable with this in class. Also, for some, the discussion of gods and goddesses, warfare, strange mythological family trees, and other stories, although fictional, may not be what parents or students are comfortable learning about in class. Please see or talk to Ms. Wehner as soon as possible if this is the case to switch classes.

Learning Materials Needed Daily:

1. Notebook
2. Several pencils and a pen
3. A folder or 3 ring binder
4. iPad when available

Success in this class for every student is a priority. Please remember that communication is an essential factor in all we do and therefore, do not ever hesitate to address me—especially because together, we can work at making anything possible.
