What Is a Family-School Compact?

A Family-School Compact for Achievement is an agreement that parents, students and teachers develop together. It explains how parents and teachers will work together to make sure all students get the individual support they need to reach and exceed grade level standards.

Jointly Developed with Parents

The parents at Johnson Aerospace & Engineering High School helped develop this Compact for Achievement. Each school year parent involvement events are held to gather information and feedback from parents that helps update the compact. Parents should feel free to contribute comments at any time.

JOHNSON HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Daily under the direction of 300+ upper-class student-leaders, all JHS students attend an advisory period. During advisory students are empowered with the opportunity to participate in decision-making about things in our school that directly impacts them. These student-leader led advisories are meant to build community amongst students, increase school spirit, help students be more successful in their classes, and create an environment where they can learn and practice leadership skills.

Parents

Johnson High School parents joined staff to develop ideas about how families can support student success. Together it was decided that parents will:

- Ensure that their child attends school regularly and on time
- Communicate with their child’s teachers on a regular basis
- Provide a home environment that encourages and supports their child’s learning
- Stay aware of what their child is learning and how he/she is progressing
- Help their child maintain a positive attitude about learning and school
- See to it that their child seeks help when he/she struggles
- Support school offerings for parents by attending at least one a year. Offering examples include but are not limited to: Open house, Parent Academy, & Parent/Teacher conferences
- Take an interest in who your child’s friends are
