

ESSENTIALS OF PERSONALIZED LEARNING

SAINT PAUL PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Personalized Learning	Looks Like	With the Outcome of
Tailored Instruction and Learning Supports 	Teachers build relationships and offer culturally relevant learning opportunities that incorporate multiple racial perspectives.	Engaging student-centered instruction.
	Teachers customize their instructional strategies using a range of information about individual learners.	Learning opportunities matched to learner needs, strengths and interests.
	Teachers provide learners with multiple pathways for meeting standards, following Universal Design for Learning guidelines.	Grade-level proficiency or higher.
Student Voice and Choice 	Learners pursue interests and opportunities that are racially and culturally relevant.	Engaged learners.
	Learners join with teachers in directing their educational experiences.	Independent, goal-oriented and reflective learners.
	Learners make decisions about the means and methods by which they address standards, following Universal Design for Learning guidelines.	Accelerated learning and achievement.
Engagement in a Technology-Rich Environment 	Flexible learning environments facilitate collaboration and extend beyond the classroom.	Learning needs accommodated.
	Technology is used to facilitate creativity and innovation; communication and collaboration; critical thinking and problem solving; and research.	Technology-enriched learning.