Greetings Families!

This Saturday, October 5 is the Fall Festival out in our field behind the school from 12 - 4. It is free so please do come and enjoy the festival!

Please encourage your child to read every night and log his/her books in the Reading Log. Students read the same book all week. At the end of the month, students who met the reading goal of 15 books will receive a coupon for a free single size pizza from Pizza Hut.

For those of you who registered your child for EDL, the start date has been pushed back to 10/21. Included in the red folder is a letter explaining why the start date was back.

Remember you can always visit our room any time. If you have any questions or concerns, please let me know at 651.293.8715 or email pa.houa.lee@spps.org.

MATH

We are still continuing to count and show numbers in different ways.

Inquiry Corner

This year, we will dive more into inquiry based learning. We will be asking lots of questions and looking for ways to find answers. I encourage you to talk with your child about questioning and being curious!

READING

We are all finished with assessments and have started small reading groups. We are learning about the central messages in stories. Please have your child read and share with you the central messages in stories.

WRITING

We are starting a new unit called Writing For Readers where we write so the readers can read our wonderful stories.
