Greetings Families!

I can't believe it's been three weeks since school started. Students have been reading, writing and working on math class.

Today, the Reading Bags are coming home with books at a level that students should be able to read by themselves. Inside the Reading Bags is a reading log for this last part of September and the rest of October. Reading GOAL Is 15 books for the months. Students can always read more! Please return Reading Bags next FRIDAY!

I do not assign any other homework besides reading because I believe that students should spend time conversing with families and friends, and enjoying other extra curricular activities after school. I think students will get plenty of homework once they are in the upper grades!

Remember you can always visit our room any time. If you have any questions or concerns, please let me know at 651.293.8715 or email pa.houa.lee@spps.org.

MATH

We are learning to count and show numbers in different ways.

READING

We are learning different strategies to help us through the tricky parts.

WRITING

We are still writing and learning different ways to help us spell tricky words.

Inquiry Corner

This year, we will dive more into inquiry based learning. We will be asking lots of questions and looking for ways to find answers. I encourage you to talk with your child about questioning and being curious!
