February sharing

Share a book you have read at home. It could be a book you have read many times, one you read recently, or one you wrote!

Math

Kindergarteners are working on solving addition and subtraction number stories, place value of tens and ones, odd and even numbers, and making numbers on ten frames.

Phonics

Kindergartners have learned the digraphs (two letters that make one sound) sh, th, and ch. They are practicing blending letters together to make words, and learning about word families.

Literacy & Writing

We have been reading personal narratives; stories written from the narrator’s point of view. They are books that use the words, I, me, my, mine, we, and us. Kindergarteners have spent the month of January learning to write their own personal narratives. The published books are coming home today! Enjoy reading them together!

Looking Forward

During the month of February we celebrate Black History Month by learning about people like Ruby Bridges, Ron McNair, Misty Copeland, Claudette Colvin & Rosa Parks, Barack and Michelle Obama, Jacob Lawrence, Mae Jamison, Matthew Henson, and George Washington Carver.

We will celebrate Presidents day and learn about George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

We will celebrate valentine’s day with math and writing activities. Students will practice writing friendly letters and play in our pretend post office.

We will also celebrate our 100th day of kindergarten. *kindergarteners often think this is the last day of school. We will have a fun day counting to 100 in lots of different ways.
